

Department of History

Presents

A Talk and Book Signing

A Kentucky Portia: The Legal Career and legislative Legacy of Sophonisba Breckinridge, Kentucky's First Woman Lawyer

Dr. Anya Jabour

Regents Professor, University of Montana

WT Young Library's
Alumni Gallery
Room I-65
November 7th
3:30-5:00PM

SOPHONISBA BRECKINRIDGE

CHAMPIONING WOMEN'S ACTIVISM
IN MODERN AMERICA

ANYA JABOUR

Anya Jabour, author, who earned her Ph.D. at Rice University, is Regents Professor of History at the University of Montana, where she teaches U.S. women's history, the history of families and children in the U.S., and the history of the American South. The author of several books and articles on women, families, and children in the nineteenth-century South,.

Get 40% Off
Jabour's book
through the University of Illinois
Press's website
using the promo
code F19UIP

University of Kentucky
College of Arts and Sciences