

HISTORY DEPARTMENT WORKSHOP

Creative & Critical Approaches to

Gen AI

in Humanities Education

Wednesday,
September 20th

3 pm

POT 1745

Zoom link to attend virtually:

https://uky.zoom.us/j/84781

496657

As we approach the one-year anniversary of the public release of ChatGPT, we reflect on rapid change and development in generative AI, particularly as it relates to teaching and learning. In addition to taking stock of where we are now and looking ahead to emerging issues, we will focus on ways of teaching with generative AI in the humanities that seek (1) to foster critical perspectives on and critical users of generative AI and (2) to leverage the affordances of new technologies in ways that enhance student learning and engagement.

Presenters:

Trey Conatser, PhD

Director of CELT

Jill Abney, PhD

Associate Director of CELT